Financial Markets Course

The CERGE-EI Foundation Distance Learning Program Financial Markets course consists of 20 hours of online, live-streamed intensive lectures, with a focus on student interaction throughout. To successfully pass the course, students are required to complete weekly quizzes and pass a comprehensive final exam.

The course aims to provide a basic understanding of today's changing landscape of financial markets and institutions with a broad scope and emphasis on general principles. The list of topics includes interest rates and their role in the valuation of financial instruments, efficient market hypothesis, exchange rate determination, money and capital markets, players in the financial institutions industry, central banking and the conduct of monetary policy.
